

The Latin American History Seminar and Workshop on Administrating Differences in Latin America: Historical Approaches

Invites you to

Using History in Law: Indigenous Rights

How is Law used to sustain Indigenous Rights and what happens to history in the process?

Thomas Duve

Director, Max Planck Institute for European Legal History
Professor of Comparative Legal History, Goethe University, Frankfurt

March 13, 2019, 3-5 pm

CGIS S450

1730 Cambridge St., Cambridge MA

Copies of a pre-circulated paper can be obtained by writing to therzog@fas.harvard.edu or delafunte@fas.harvard.edu

Thomas Duve's research focuses on the legal history of the Iberian empires in the early modern period and modernity and on the history of legal historiography in 19th and 20th century.