The Hamilton Historical is a competitive, peer-reviewed biannual publication for undergraduates to share their best work in diverse fields of historical inquiry.

This upcoming edition will be our seventh publication and we are eager to accept submissions beyond the bounds of Hamilton College! Our most recent volume can be accessed here. Please consider distributing the following material to your history students at Harvard University so that they may have the opportunity to publish their hard work this fall.

Please submit your work by email to hamhistorical@gmail.comby October 13, 2024. Submissions will be reviewed on a rollingbasis and accepted papers (6-8) will be notified in late October. Accepted papers are subject to peer-review and will include requested edits.

Please also feel free to reach out to me or our executive board (hamhistorical@gmail.com) with any questions or concerns you have regarding our organization or our process. We hope to establish a fruitful partnership and look forward to reading your students' work. Thank you for your consideration!

Kind regards,
Lara Barreira, editor-in-chief.
The Hamilton Historical Undergraduate Journal