Hello!

I am thrilled to announce the call for papers for the Yale Historical Review's Fall 2022 issue. The YHR is a biannual journal of undergraduate historical research published by students at Yale University.

We accept papers between 15 and 80 pages (double-spaced) written for class credit or for longer research projects (e.g., senior theses, independent studies, etc.). We are excited to read writing on any subject, so long as it deals meaningfully with the past. Take a look at our Fall 2021 issue here.

Please submit your paper by Friday, November 11 at 11:59 PM ET using this form.

NB: We review anonymously; please remove your name and all identifying details from both the name of the file and the body of the essay!

If you have any questions/concerns, please reach out to me via email (yalehistoricalreview@gmail.com).

Warm regards,

Esther Reichek
