Hello!

We are thrilled to announce the call for papers for the Yale Historical Review's Fall 2023 issue. The YHR is a biannual journal of undergraduate historical research published by students at Yale University.

We accept papers between 15 and 80 pages (double-spaced) written for class credit or for longer research projects (e.g., senior theses, independent studies, etc.). We are excited to read writing on any subject, so long as it deals meaningfully with the past. Take a look at our Spring/Summer 2022 issue here.

Please submit your paper by JUNE 18 (deadline extended!) at 11:59 PM ET here.

NB: We review anonymously; please remove your name and all identifying details from both the name of the file and the body of the essay!

If you have any questions/concerns, please reach out to us via email (yalehistoricalreview@gmail.com).

Warm regards,

Lucy Gilchrist and Judah Millen
