

NEGOTIATION IN A TIME OF WAR:

Abraham Lincoln and the 1865 Hampton Roads Peace Conference

Sept. 10th, 12 - 1:15 PM
Hauser 102

Free and open to the public. Please bring your lunch; drinks and dessert will be served.

Join the Program on Negotiation for a talk by James Conroy, author of Our One Common Country: Abraham Lincoln and the Hampton Roads Peace Conference of 1865.

In 1865, President Lincoln and Secretary of State Seward met with three senior Confederate officials in an effort to find a compromise that would end the Civil War. Conroy will discuss this negotiation - unique in the history of the United States - and will provide insight into what derailed the peace talks.
